

Chain covers of graphs

Logan Hoehn

University of Toronto

I will describe a technique for determining whether certain (continuum theoretic) graphs in the plane have chain covers of small mesh. I will then discuss the application of this tool to establish that certain inverse limits of trees are non-chainable.